

Dear RISD Staff Member:

This letter is to announce the opportunity for our teachers to access Lamar University's high-quality, fully online master's degrees at a preferred tuition rate of $4,950 through December 2009. Enroll in one of the fall start dates and "lock in" the tuition rate. Tuition increases to $6,480 in January 2010. The full tuition is paid by the student.

The master's degree programs offered from Lamar will help participating teachers successfully expand the quality of their teaching and leadership skills. The faculty and leadership at Lamar are committed to supporting teachers in meeting today's performance requirements.

In RISD, we strongly encourage all staff to continue in their educational pursuits. Lamar University offers one avenue for such growth. All eligible and interested candidates should consider this wonderful professional development opportunity. Click on the link below to learn more about the degree programs and how to get started.
